

Sports Medicine and Science Committee
January 17, 2011

This committee has met twice by conference call since convention.

Ongoing projects include scheduling presentations on sports medicine/science topics for national championship meets and convention. This planning is underway for 2011.

Jessica Seaton, vice-chair, continues to review health-related articles for USMS Swimmer as received and requested by the editor.

We also review research proposals requesting grant funding from the endowment fund. We are currently corresponding with a professor from Emory University who would like to use demographic data from US Masters Swimming to evaluate bladder cancer rates.
